Comptroller Calls 'Em:

"Dr. Zahm is counting on chalk this year to bring home a title. Six of his eight picks come from 1 and 2 seeds, the other two from 4 and 5 seeds. None of us should be surprised to find Adam with the most players still alive come the Final Four in Minneapolis. And as we know, that's the surest recipe of success."

Comptroller Calls 'Em:

"Alex is back at the well and drinking up the water with confidence: Kyle Guy and Deandre Hunter of UVA are his 1-2 picks and Alex will go as far as they carry him. An ACC tournament loss to FSU aside, UVA looks like a much different team this year. Will it be enough to break Alex's twelve year slump?"

Comptroller Calls 'Em:

"The defending champion wasted no time in making bold moves to show he's not sitting on his laurels. Cam Johnson (UNC) and Cassius Winston (MSU) might be the most experienced, talented 1-2 picks of any team. Have to think that if Farach is going to repeat, he needs both those guys in the lineup come championship Monday April 8th."

Comptroller Calls 'Em:

"As sure as everyone hates their own voice, the Comptroller does not feel good about his team this year. Three players clustered in the West bracket, one of whom has a wrist injury (Markus Howard of Marquette). If Ja Morant upsets Marquette and FSU goes down early, you can kiss me goodbye in the first weekend."

Comptroller Calls 'Em:

"Boot jokes aside, Bryan has assembled a roster to be scared of in 2019. Many believe R.J. Barrett will be the better pro than Zion, Iggy Brazdeikis has never been afraid of the big moment and Fletcher Magee based on name alone sounds like a Player Pool legend in the making."

Comptroller Calls 'Em:

"Recovering admirably after expressing early draft frustration at his top pick (Grant Williams of Tennessee), James caught fire in the middle rounds. His picks were heavy on attacking wings, the kind of players most likely to hoist up shots in March. And he waited patiently to snatch up Ja Morant in the seventh round. Will we all look like fools for not picking Morant sooner? James's money is on yes."

Comptroller Calls 'Em:

“For the second year in a row Josh picked last. Last year the result was a disappointing seventh place finish. Will his fortunes change this time around? History says it's possible. Josh's 2010 title team also started with the last pick.”

Comptroller Calls 'Em:

“Rob hasn't drafted a Duke player since he took Quinn Cook in 2015 but as we all know, Zion is the kind of player even UNC lovers can't ignore. And if you want a track record of success, look no further than the last time Rob had the #1 overall pick -- that was in 2013 when Louisville guard Russ Smith scored a tourney high 134 points.”
